ENCINO ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES ANNOUNCES EQUITY INVESTMENT FROM ENCAP INVESTMENTS

JANUARY 26, 2022 | Encino Environmental Services

HOUSTON – January 26, 2022 – Encino Environmental Services, LLC (“Encino” or “the Company”) today announced a growth equity investment from EnCap Investments L.P. (“EnCap”). Encino is an environmental monitoring, measurement, and technical services and products company that provides an enterprise-class data fabric and vertically integrated sensor arrays to identify and evaluate greenhouse gas (“GHG”) emissions. EnCap’s investment was made in partnership with Encino’s primary sponsor, BP Energy Partners, LLC (“BPEP”).

Encino provides a full spectrum of environmental and regulatory compliance solutions within the upstream and midstream energy sectors. Encino also serves marine, power, industrial, mining and other industries seeking to reduce their carbon footprint and reach their ESG goals. The Company’s mobile-emissions-performance testing laboratories allow for rapid deployment to meet emissions testing for mechanical integrity assessments and regulatory requirements. Encino’s engineering and environmental science expertise enables the Company to assess, design and implement an array of strategies to address complex environmental projects.

“We are excited to partner with EnCap to support this endeavor,” Encino Founder and Chief Technology Officer Joe Etheridge said. “EnCap’s management insight, reputation and market position will enhance our operations and market stature. Environmental initiatives will continue to play a key role in the decarbonization of the energy value chain, and we believe EnCap will help us deliver high-resolution technologies and services that support our customer’s goals.”

“Encino is strategically positioned to pioneer comprehensive ESG initiatives to address both market demand and pending government-mandated GHG programs,” EnCap Partner Kyle Kafka added. “Encino responds to both challenges as well as opportunities to benchmark GHG performance. Improving and maintaining best-in-class environmental performance is a key focus for EnCap portfolio companies and we strongly believe that the technologies and expertise Encino offers to the industry will be critical as we continue our focus in providing sustainable, low-cost energy to the world.”

“We are delighted to have EnCap as a partner in Encino,” said BPEP Managing Partner Alex Szewczyk. “We look forward to working with the EnCap team to advance this mission by continuing to scale Encino and deliver best-in-class environmental services.”
